“Dear young people, do not let the time that the Lord gives you go by as though everything happened by chance. Saint John has told us that everything has been made in Christ. Therefore, believe unshakably in him. He directs the history of individuals as well as the history of humanity. Certainly Christ respects our freedom, but in all our joyful or bitter circumstances of life he never stops asking us to believe in him, in his word, in the reality of the Church, in eternal life! Don't ever think then that you are unknown to him, as if you were just a number in an anonymous crowd. Each one of you is clearly precious to Christ, he knows you personally, he loves you tenderly, even when you are not aware of him.”

Pope John Paul II
