Weekly Reflection.

'Do not be afraid'.

June is the month when most Irish priests celebrate the anniversary of their ordination. As we age and our numbers diminish drastically, we look around us and see so few choosing to respond to the call of Christ we wonder why are the labourers so few.

It takes greater courage to respond to God's call today for society has changed its priorities. Values like commitment, and service and integrity which provided fertile support structures in the past, have been replaced with a desire wealth, and pleasure and comfort, which unfortunately leaves a desert experience in the lives of so many people.

There is still a great sense of fulfilment in the ministry of service that priests endeavour to provide in their communities. We trust that Jesus in whose name we serve, will find a way for His church to be renewed and energised.

We must not be afraid.

Fr Shane.
