Weekly Reflection.

'Teaching that is new.'

There is much talk today about the development of Artificial Intelligence, and how dangerous it is and how daunting it will be for humanity to cope with this innovative technology. I believe that A.I. is a misnomer. Yes, it is artificial, but no, it is not intelligence.

Technology has advanced to a stage where machinery can take information and data and produce specific outcomes or perform certain tasks. This is not intelligence, rather it is a sophisticated logical method of processing data. Only humans can take information and process it to create wisdom, understanding and right judgement. This wisdom we believe comes from our interaction with the Divine.

In the Gospel today Jesus speaks with authority with a teaching that his listeners described as being new. This is how mankind's intelligence works, by taking our encounter with God through His words and interpreting them in our hearts. This wisdom can only come about through loving relationships which will always be beyond the reach of programmed devices.

Let us listen for God's Word.

Fr Shane.
