Weekly Reflection.

"The Beam in my Eye".

Jesus, in today's gospel warns us against arrogance and hasty judgement of others. Though it seems obvious, applying it can be difficult. We are all inclined to notice and judge the faults of others more readily than we see or admit our own faults. We can spot the lack in our spouses, children, leaders, colleagues at work, and even official church teaching and hierarchical structures, yet we have little time or energy to look at ourselves and correct our own faults. In the meantime, our own Christian way of living could be giving a far greater scandal.

Coincidentally, this weekend, we will be inviting the children from the confirmation classes who wish to take a pledge to abstain from alcohol until eighteen and drugs for life to do so. We pray that this exercise will not only be one of those moments that we dare to point out to others the right road while neglecting the weightier moral flaws of our own lives. Let us turn our sharp analytical eyes, which quickly diagnose people's faults, away from the children and other people on ourselves. This call to self-reflection is timely as the Holy season of Lent approaches. Let us drop our hypocrisy and critique ourselves, thereby removing the beam in our eye to see clearly and to produce good fruit instead of bad ones.

Fr. Vitus Adiita.

The Confirmation Pledge

(The priest invites the congregation to stand).

Before these young people take their pledge, they are entitled to know that they will have all the support we can give them. Therefore, in the name of God, I ask you their parents, their family members, teachers, friends, neighbours and fellow parishioners:

Do you promise to stand together from now on to promote temperance and moderation, responsible and respectful behaviour, as a support for the young people who today are making this courageous choice?

ALL: We do.

Can they count on the help of your prayers and example?

All: They can.

I invite you then to pray together with me, as a community of faith, the Prayer of Commitment:

God our Father, as a member of this parish family by our baptism and confirmation, and by the Eucharist we share, we accept our responsibility to do all we can to foster your love and your life among our families, in our parish and in our society today.

We wish to promote a more responsible attitude to alcohol use. We commit ourselves, with the help of your Holy Spirit, to support these young people by our example, our faith and our love. Amen.
